S 4 1/2 What these people want isn't relevant to the people keeping the records. Viewed as interesting + means to an end. Callous, bureaucratic feel to whole operation. Clinical, detached, a-motivated S4 1/2 people doing rote work are detached, not involved, but not emotionally involved or necessarily benighted in intent. Subjects are bewildered, don't know what's going on.

some detail

1st floor in area 2 is full, walls & floor grey, door connects structure w/ small regular windows, maybe barred, fairly surrounded by chain link fence & barbed-wire top & lights. old

2nd floor has long hall, green floors, person at desk controlling access to the area. Offices. Room containing many files. Records deal w/ people present at site. 2 overall groups - subjects, & others produce & keep records. Records keep track of progress of subjects individually. Show progress & regress during procedures, until final termination when subjects are either "dead" or "fanned out" to a holding area where they stay indefinitely (like being in retirement, a nursing home, & a mental hosp. all in one.) Subjects never leave system altogether.

Procedures involve energy introduction to subject, which either incidentally or intentionally causes pain. Observers/record makers expect this, are not irritated or cruel, but are also not beneficial or empathetic. They are detached, interested,
